

Faculty Commitment to Advise

Securing a faculty advisor is required before an application may be reviewed. Applicants may contact faculty members directly to inquire if they wish to serve as their advisor. This adviser must be a member of the graduate college and will act as the student's academic mentor throughout the PhD program.

If you have spoken with a faculty member who has committed to advising you if you are accepted into the Rehab PhD program, please have that individual sign below. If obtaining the faculty member's signature is complicated by geographical separation or other practical issues, it will be acceptable for you to attach an e-mail from the faculty member indicating their willingness to advise you if you are accepted into the Rehab PhD program.

I, _____ (faculty name), agree to serve as the faculty adviser to _____ (applicant name). I am willing to supervise him/her if he/she is admitted to the Rehabilitation Sciences PhD.
